

This book is about the pleasure of walking in the bush, about enjoying Nature in all its many-faceted forms. Take a deep breath of the invigorating air. Listen to the myriad sounds all around you and marvel at the majestic trees and the delicate shades of the native flora, as you become one with Nature. There are over 100km of walking tracks in our park. Each has a story to tell, about the struggle of early settlers carving a living out of the bush, about sawmilling and carting out timber for a growing Melbourne metropolis, as well as making charcoal for the motor industry during WWII. Kurth Kiln Regional Park is part of our lives, our cultural history and our Australian heritage.

The booklet was produced by the Friends of Kurth Kiln (A0038229J) with funding from the Yarra Ranges Council "2016 Arts & Heritage Development Grant" and Members Contributions.
