

Mountain District Group walk at Kurth Kiln

Tuesday 30 January 2018

After a row of uncomfortable weather, humid and hot, with the temperature not dropping down from the high 20's at night, the weather on Tuesday was cool.

The eleven walkers enjoyed walking through the bush where, after the rain, everything looked fresh and we took delight in the energizing aroma of the bush. The walk started on Kurth Kiln Track the to Woodduck Track. On Woodduck Track we walked to Cramer Track, On Cramer Track we admired the beautiful fern gullies.

Reaching the track next to Gembrook Launching Place Road we stopped for morning tea, before continuing to Gilwell Track, on which we walked to Shepherds Creek Road.

On Shepherds Creek Road, walking past the majestic Eucalyptus, we reached Tomahawk Creek Track. After the rain during the previous night the sound of the water racing down Tomahawk Creek was very refreshing.

It was a relatively short walk, only 6km, but it seemed long enough after the earlier tiring heat.

We now all look forward to the next walk
