

Upper Yarra u3A walk at Kurth Kiln

6 September 2019

It had raining heavily during the night, but we were delighted that eight warmly dressed, raincoat clad participants came for the walk. Just before the walk started the rain stopped.

On Kurth Kiln Track we went to the slippery Woodduck Track, half way to Tom's Track the Sun started to appear. Tom's Track to Soldiers Road was not as slippery as we thought it would be.

Along Soldiers road we walked to Spencers Track and down the Track to Waterchannel Track. There we stopped for a drink and quick snack before heading on to the Kurth Kiln Camping Ground.

There we divided into two groups, one going directly to Kurth Kiln, the other crossed the Tomahawk Creek Track to the Thornton Track, reading its display boards, and returned to Kurth Kiln.

Meanwhile Alfred had heated the water for the coffee at the kiln. We all enjoyed a relaxed and friendly chat, the coffee and cake.

The weather was lovely while we walked and had coffee. Soon after we finished it started to rain and get cold again.
